What is Majma al-Zawa'id?

Majma al-Zawa'id wa Manba' al-Fawa'id, to give its full Arabic title, is a monumental encyclopedic compilation of hadith. It is not an original collection of hadith but rather a selective anthology of traditions found in earlier, well-known hadith compilations that were not part of the "Six Books" (Sihah Sittah). The primary goal of the compiler, Imam Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani, was to bring together authentic and lesser-known traditions, often highlighting those with stronger chains of narration that might have been overlooked or not extensively discussed in other works. The term "Zawa'id" itself signifies "additions" or "appendages," referring to the hadith that are found in the sources Ibn Hajar consulted but not in the most prominent canonical collections. This makes Majma al-Zawa'id a crucial reference for scholars seeking a more complete picture of the prophetic Sunnah.

The Historical Context and Compilation of Majma al-Zawa'id

The compilation of Majma al-Zawa'id emerged during a period of intense scholarly activity in the study of hadith. Following the monumental efforts of scholars who compiled the canonical hadith collections like Sahih al-Bukhari and Sahih Muslim, a need arose to systematically examine and document hadith found in other respected but less universally recognized compilations. Imam Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani (d. 852 AH / 1449 CE), a towering figure in Islamic scholarship, embarked on this ambitious project. He meticulously sifted through numerous hadith books, identifying traditions that were not present in the Sihah Sittah. His student, Imam Badr al-Din al-Ayni (d. 855 AH / 1451 CE), later undertook the task of completing and organizing the work, often adding his own valuable commentary and analysis. This collaborative effort resulted in a work that is both comprehensive and critically examined, reflecting the advanced scholarship of its time in the critical evaluation of prophetic traditions.

Methodology and Scholarly Approach in Majma al-Zawa'id

The scholarly approach adopted in Majma al-Zawa'id is characterized by its meticulousness and critical rigor. Imam Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani did not simply gather hadith; he critically assessed each tradition based on its chain of narration (isnad) and its textual content (matn). His methodology involved:

- Identifying hadith from a vast array of earlier hadith compilations, including works by scholars like Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal, Imam Abd al-Razzaq al-San'ani, and Imam Ibn Abi Shaybah, among many others.
- Examining the reliability of the narrators within each chain of transmission.
- Providing rulings on the authenticity of the hadith, classifying them according to established hadith terminology (e.g., sahih, hasan, da'if).
- Often commenting on the strengths and weaknesses of the chains, and sometimes the nuances of the text itself.

This systematic evaluation ensures that the hadith presented in Majma al-Zawa'id are not merely collected but are also critically appraised, making it a reliable source for scholarly research and verification of prophetic traditions.

Structure and Organization of Majma al-Zawa'id

Majma al-Zawa'id is meticulously organized to facilitate ease of reference and study. The work is broadly divided into chapters based on Islamic jurisprudential topics, mirroring the structure of traditional hadith compendiums. These chapters cover a wide range of subjects, including faith, purification, prayer, fasting, charity, pilgrimage, transactions, marriage, divorce, and many others. Within each chapter, the hadith are typically arranged thematically. The compiler's objective was to present the traditions in a logical sequence that aligns with established Islamic legal categories. This systematic arrangement allows scholars to quickly locate relevant hadith for specific legal rulings or theological discussions, contributing significantly to the work's utility and its esteemed position in hadith scholarship.

The Significance of Majma al-Zawa'id in Hadith Authentication

The primary significance of Majma al-Zawa'id lies in its indispensable role in hadith authentication. By meticulously documenting hadith from sources not included in the most prominent canonical collections, it expands the corpus of recorded Sunnah available for study. For scholars, it serves as a crucial reference to verify traditions that might appear in other, less rigorously vetted works. Imam Ibn Hajar's critical evaluations of the chains of narration provide invaluable insights into the strength and reliability of these traditions. This process of authentication is vital for distinguishing between authentic prophetic sayings and those that may be weak or fabricated, thereby safeguarding the integrity of Islamic teachings. Majma al-Zawa'id thus acts as a gatekeeper, ensuring that the Sunnah used for legal and theological understanding is as authentic as possible.

Majma al-Zawa'id and its Role in Islamic Jurisprudence

The contribution of Majma al-Zawa'id to Islamic jurisprudence (fiqh) is profound. Many hadith included in this compendium, while not always found in the Sihah Sittah, possess chains of narration that are considered strong and reliable by hadith scholars. These traditions often elaborate on legal rulings, provide specific details for religious practices, or offer unique ethical guidance that complements the material found in other collections. Jurists and legal scholars frequently refer to Majma al-Zawa'id when examining complex legal issues or when seeking to understand the full spectrum of Prophetic guidance on a particular matter. The presence of these "additional" hadith can sometimes lead to diverse legal opinions among scholars, enriching the jurisprudential discourse and providing a broader evidentiary base for deriving Islamic rulings.

Key Features and Unique Contributions of Majma al-Zawa'id

Majma al-Zawa'id distinguishes itself through several key features and unique contributions to Islamic scholarship. Firstly, its comprehensive nature, drawing from a vast array of earlier hadith compilations, makes it an unparalleled resource for identifying and studying hadith outside the Sihah Sittah. Secondly, the critical commentary provided by Imam Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani on the chains of narration adds an invaluable layer of authentication, assisting scholars in discerning the reliability of each tradition. Thirdly, its systematic organization by jurisprudential topics facilitates easy access and comparative study. Finally, by bringing to light numerous authentic hadith that might otherwise remain obscure, Majma al-Zawa'id significantly enhances our understanding of the breadth and depth of the Prophet Muhammad's (peace be upon him) teachings and practices, enriching both theological discussions and legal derivations.

Accessing and Utilizing Majma al-Zawa'id for Research

Accessing and effectively utilizing Majma al-Zawa'id for research requires familiarity with hadith studies and Arabic scholarly works. The original Arabic text is the primary source, and it has been published in multiple editions. Modern scholarship has also produced translations and scholarly analyses of this monumental work. Researchers typically consult Majma al-Zawa'id when they need to:

- Verify the authenticity of a hadith found in other texts.
- Explore the full range of prophetic traditions on a specific topic.
- Understand the nuances of hadith chains of narration and their evaluation.
- Conduct comparative studies of hadith collections.
- Research the historical development of Islamic jurisprudence and theology.

When using Majma al-Zawa'id, it is essential to pay attention to the compiler's judgments on each hadith and to consult commentaries by other scholars for a well-rounded understanding. The work's extensive nature means that a thorough study can be a lifelong endeavor, yet its accessibility through printed editions and scholarly aids makes it an indispensable tool for serious academic pursuit.

Enduring Legacy and Impact of Majma al-Zawa'id

The legacy of Majma al-Zawa'id is undeniably profound and far-reaching within the realm of Islamic scholarship. Its meticulous compilation and critical analysis have cemented its status as a cornerstone of hadith studies, relied upon by scholars for centuries. The work's enduring impact is evident in its continued use in contemporary academic research, legal interpretation, and theological discourse. By providing a critical repository of authentic prophetic traditions, Majma al-Zawa'id plays a vital role in preserving and understanding the Sunnah, ensuring that the guidance of the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) remains a living and accessible source of knowledge for Muslims worldwide. Its influence extends beyond mere collection; it represents a methodology of rigorous scholarly inquiry that continues to inspire and guide those dedicated to the study of Islamic tradition.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is Majma al-Zawa'id and its significance in Islamic scholarship?

Majma al-Zawa'id wa Manba' al-Fawa'id is a monumental hadith compilation by Imam Nur al-Din Ali ibn Abi Bakr al-Haythami. Its significance lies in its unique approach of collecting hadith from various well-known hadith collections (like Bukhari, Muslim, Abu Dawud, Tirmidhi, Nasa'i, and Ibn Majah) that were not included in those primary sources but were found in earlier or less widely circulated collections. It also annotates the origin of these hadith, identifying their chains of narration and commenting on the reliability of the narrators, making it an invaluable resource for hadith authentication and understanding the wider corpus of prophetic traditions.

What are the primary hadith collections that Majma al-Zawa'id draws from?

Majma al-Zawa'id primarily draws from the six major hadith collections: Sahih al-Bukhari, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abi Dawud, Jami' al-Tirmidhi, Sunan al-Nasa'i, and Sunan Ibn Majah. However, its unique value comes from including narrations found in these collections but also from many other earlier and sometimes less common works, thus expanding the scope of accessible authentic hadith.

How does Majma al-Zawa'id help in the process of hadith authentication?

Majma al-Zawa'id is crucial for hadith authentication because Imam al-Haythami meticulously identifies the origins of each hadith, often mentioning which companions narrated it and through which specific chains of transmission. He also provides brief biographical notes and judgments on the reliability of the narrators within those chains. This detailed referencing allows scholars to trace the hadith back to its sources and evaluate its authenticity based on established hadith methodology.

What is the typical structure or organization of a hadith entry in Majma al-Zawa'id?

A typical hadith entry in Majma al-Zawa'id usually begins with the full text of the hadith itself. Following the hadith, Imam al-Haythami lists the original collections where this specific narration can be found (e.g., Ahmad, Tabarani, Bazzar). He then provides commentary on the chain of narration (isnad), often mentioning the companions who narrated it and indicating the reliability or weakness of the narrators based on the consensus of hadith scholars. This structure facilitates easy cross-referencing and authentication.

Who is Imam Nur al-Din Ali ibn Abi Bakr al-Haythami and what is his contribution?

Imam Nur al-Din Ali ibn Abi Bakr al-Haythami (d. 807 AH/1405 CE) was a prominent Egyptian hadith scholar, historian, and jurist. His most significant contribution is the compilation of Majma al-Zawa'id wa Manba' al-Fawa'id. This encyclopedic work is a testament to his vast knowledge of hadith literature and his dedication to preserving and organizing the authentic traditions of the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), making a vast amount of hadith accessible and verifiable for future generations.

What are some of the challenges scholars face when using Majma al-Zawa'id?

While invaluable, scholars sometimes face challenges with Majma al-Zawa'id. One challenge is the sheer volume of the work, making thorough study time-consuming. Another is that while al-Haythami provides judgments on narrators, these may sometimes be brief, requiring further in-depth research into the biographies and critiques of those individuals by other hadith masters. Additionally, understanding the nuances of his abbreviations and classifications for narrator reliability can require familiarity with hadith terminology and methodology.

majma al zawaid: The Development of Islamic Ritual Gerald Hawting, 2017-05-15 This volume is concerned with the origins, development and character of ritual in Islam. The focus is upon the rituals associated with the five 'pillars of Islam': the credal formula, prayer, alms, fasting and pilgrimage. Since the 19th century academic scholarship has sought to investigate Muslim rituals from the point of view of history, the study of religion, and the social sciences, and a set of the most important and influential contributions to this debate, some of them translated into English for the first time, is brought together here. Participation in the ritual life of Islam is for most Muslims the predominant expression of their adherence to the faith and of their religious identity. The Development of Islamic Ritual shows some of the ways in which this important aspect of Islam developed to maturity in the first centuries of Islamic history.

Attempts to understand kalāla began with acknowledging its unintelligibility but ultimately brought into existence a capacious body of interpretative ḥadīth, associated with early Islamic authorities. The analysis of these traditions affords insights into the changing conception of scripture during the first two Islamic centuries, the early history of Islamic exegesis and jurisprudence, and varying scholarly attitudes towards constituent sources of Islamic law. The book highlights the importance of coherent methodology of dating and reconstructing Muslim traditions according to their lines of transmission (isnāds) and their narrative content (matns).

majma al zawaid: Celebration of Mawlid Al-Nabi Sultan ul Ashiqeen Sultan Mohammad Najib ur Rehman, 2021-10-19 The lord of the worlds Prophet Mohammad (pbuh) privileged humanity by manifesting in the world which was in a state of utter chaos before him. Mawlid or the birthday of Allah's beloved Prophet Mohammad was celebrated with all the unheretical practices for approximately thirteen hundred years. It is only after the Ottoman Empire that a kind of debate on the celebration of his birthday is continued. The author, Sultan-ul-Ashiqeen Sultan Mohammad Najib-ur-Rehman has answered all queries regarding celebration of Mawlid. He has proven the validity of celebrating the prestigious day of the Prophet's arrival by the authentic events, Hadiths, Sunna and extracts from the legendary scholars of Islam. No aspect of the issue has been kept unaddressed. The holy verses of the Quran have been referred to reinforce the acceptability and authenticity of celebration of the most auspicious day. This miraculous book is a classic and a favourite among the people as it unlocks hearts to the love for the beloved Holy Prophet.

majma al zawaid: Foundations of Islamic Governance Maszlee Malik, 2016-12-19 The aim of this book is to explore and analyze the Islamic axioms, foundation principles and values underpinning the field of governance in an attempt to construct the architectonics of a new systemic and dynamic theory and formulate the articulation of 'Islamic governance'. This discursive and abstract, rather than being an empirical exercise, assumes to produce a 'good governance' framework within its own formulation through a value-shaped dynamic model according to maqasid al-Shari'ah (higher objective of Shari'ah) by going beyond the narrow remit of classical and contemporary discussions produced on the topic, which propose a certain institutional model of governance based on the classical juristic (fiqh) method. Through an exclusive analytical discursive approach in this book, readers will find that Islam as one of the major religions in the contemporary world with the claim of promising the underpinning principles and philosophical foundations of worldly affairs and institutions through a micro method of producing homoIslamicus could contribute towards development of societies by establishing a unique model of governance from its explicit ontological worldview through a directed descriptive epistemology.

majma al zawaid: The Shi'a of Samarra Imranali Panjwani, 2012-01-30 On 22 February 2006, the main dome of the al-Askariyya shrine in Samarra was blown up. In the aftermath, sectarian strife between Shi'i and Sunni communities in Iraq and the wider region resonated around the world. The assault on Samarra, which was built in the period of the Abbasid caliphate in the ninth century CE, therefore came to represent for many a symbol of the destructive civil conflict which engulfed Iraq following the 2003 US-led invasion. The Shi'a of Samarra explores and analyses the cultural, architectural and political heritage of the Shi'a in both Samarra and the Middle East, thus highlighting how this city functions as a microcosm for the contentious issues and debates which remain at the forefront of efforts to rebuild the modern Iraqi state. From its origins under the eighth Abbasid caliph to its rise as a recognized site for visitation (ziyarat), akin to that of Najaf and Karbala, Samarra in the early period of Islam was a prominent gathering place for Shi'i Muslims. Of particular importance was the presence of the shrines of the tenth and eleventh Imams, and Samarra's status as the last known residence of the twelfth Imam. But upon the return of the Abbasids to their former capital of Baghdad at the end of the ninth century, Samarra's importance declined. Although there were Shi'i Muslims present in Samarra, it was in the late nineteenth century that the city once again became a centre for religious and juridical learning, for the most part due to the presence of the Ayatollah Mirza Hasan Shirazi. Here, the book highlights the cross-border linkages of Shi'i clerics and the impact of their teaching on both the Shi'a and Sunni within the city, and across the Middle East. Crucially, this volume also examines the history of sectarianism in Samarra: exploring issues of citizenship and identity in Iraq, and - bearing in mind the specific socio-political context of this conflict - analysing the rise of violence between the Shi'a and the Sunni. In the aftermath of the US-led invasion, and the bombings of the main dome in 2006 and the two minarets in 2007, this book also details the efforts at reconstruction that have taken place, providing important insights for students and researchers working on the history and politics of Iraq and the Middle East, as well as those interested in the art and architecture of the Islamic world.

majma al zawaid: Gender and Equality in Muslim Family Law Lena Larsen, Ziba Mir-Hosseini, Christian Moe, Kari Vogt, 2013-04-30 Dante is one of the towering figures of medieval European literature. Yet many riddles and questions about him persist. By re-reading Dante with an open mind, Barbara Reynolds made remarkable discoveries and unlocked previously hidden secrets about this greatest of Florentine poets. A fundamental enigma has tantalised readers of the 'Commedia' for seven centuries. Who was the leader prophesied by Virgil and Beatrice to bring peace to the world? Many attempts have been made to identify him, but none has seemed conclusive - until now. As well as proposing a solution to the famous prophecies, this lively, engaging and elegantly-written biography contains a provocative new idea in virtually every chapter. Dr Reynolds' research indicates that Dante smoked cannabis to reach new heights of creativity. That Beatrice, Dante's great love, was not who most scholars think she was. That Dante was a talented public speaker, who created a quite new form of poetic art, holding audiences spellbound. Above all, Reynolds views Dante as one of the greatest spin-doctors of Western civilization. His aim was not to preach an interesting parable about punishments for sin and rewards for virtue. It was to use poetry to change the politics of the age, and unite Europe around the secular authority of an Emperor. To promote this idea, which dominated his writings from his exile onwards, Dante combined it with a dramatic presentation of the Christian belief in Hell, Purgatory and Heaven. Vividly told in the first person, with a colour and immediacy derived from the pop art of street narrators - now made to seem respectable by its use of classical predecessors like Virgil - this extraordinary journey through the three realms was always profoundly political in intent. Dante here comes alive as never before: irate, opinionated, settling scores - a man of multifaceted gifts and extraordinary genius, whose role as an interpreter of world history makes him more than ever relevant to the new millennium.

majma al zawaid: Charity In Islam Omer Senturk, 2008-01-01 Exploring one of the five essential pillars of Islam, this guide to zakat explains how this Muslim practice plays a key role in preserving a peaceful economic balance within a Muslim society and how it encourages individuals to share with the less fortunate. This book is a must for Muslims who seek to observe this obligation fully and can also serve as a resource for non-Muslims as a comprehensive manual for one of its cornerstone features.

majma al zawaid: Islamic Financial Contracts Hussain Mohi-ud-Din Qadri, Nasir Iqbal, 2021-06-30 Islam encourages business and financial transactions as a way of securing the basic needs for all human beings, but these need to be conducted in accordance with the principles contained in the Qur'ān and Sunnah. However, these legal concepts are not classified subject-wise, and the verses on commercial law, like all other topics, are scattered throughout the Qur'ān, making it difficult for readers to gain a full understanding of the topic. This, therefore, is the first comprehensive book to demystify Islamic contract law and specifically Islamic financial contracts, and to examine its roots and history. The book is written in a clear style to allow for a greater understanding of the more challenging and misunderstood areas pertaining to Islamic business and financial contracts. It also contributes a series of chapters which address the market niche and need, concerning Shariah compliance for Islamic financial products and services. The book is divided into 16 chapters in order to provide a holistic and thorough overview of Islamic law of contract. It covers the objections and misconceptions surrounding Islamic business and financial contracts. It also includes the key features and guiding principles of Islamic law of contract and offers technical know-how, illustrating the concept of formation of a contract, as well as the essential elements of a valid contract. The authors also offer a discussion on the system of options under Islamic business and financial contracts and potential solutions to breach of contracts. The book will serve as a handy reference for scholars and students of Islamic business and finance and Islamic commercial law and will also be beneficial for practitioners as well as legal and judicial officers. It will open new doors for further research in the field of Islamic financial contracts.

majma al zawaid: Message Of Abraham Ibrahim Canan, 2008-10-01 The life and teachings of the Prophet Abraham?generally regarded as the patriarch of Christianity, Islam, and Judaism?are presented from an Islamic standpoint in this meditation on the interfaith icon. majma al zawaid: Peace and Reconciliation in International and Islamic Law Kaleem Hussain, 2023-03-28 In an age where the global rules-based world order faces significant challenges to maintaining peace and stability—with world superpowers jockeying to preserve their influence across multiple theatres of conflict—this book explores the major international laws and treaties governing the process of peace and reconciliation. Focusing on the conflicts in Afghanistan, Palestine-Israel and Kashmir, it examines and analyses these conflicts through the prism of international law, humanitarian norms, treaties, and conventions, interspersed with insights from the Islamic legal tradition. An innovative approach to the problem of conflict resolution is applied by a) reviewing the jurisprudential sources and tools that are used in international and Islamic law, and b) using a comparative analysis to provide an assessment of whether these sources help or hinder—individually or collectively—the chances for peace and reconciliation in specific global conflict theatres. It also explores how by supplementing these legal tools using principles of Islamic peacebuilding along with a theo-diplomatic conflict reconciliation model could assist in the brokering of peaceful outcomes. This book will be of benefit to think tanks; inter-faith institutions; government departments; diplomats, ambassadors, statesmen and stateswomen; consulates; faith leaders; universities; public policy-political science departments; international relations analysts; counter terrorism-security experts; and academics who are interested in the interfaces between Islamic and international law.

majma al zawaid: CHILDRENS BEQUEST The Art of Tajweed 3rd edition Softcover Abu Zayd, 2014-11 The poetical treatise Tu?fat al-A?f?l-literally, The Childrens' Bequest-is a wonderful gift to the Islamic tradition from the 12th century Egyptian scholar Sulaym?n al-Jamz?r? [d. 1198H]. Since that era, it has been a time-tested method of teaching Tajweed, the art of reciting the Qur n. The fact that it continues to be, to this day, the single most utilized text by teachers of Tajweed in the world is testimony to its foremost standing among resources for learning this science. This work contains a translation of this poem incorporated within a textbook on the science of Tajweed, based upon the Qur nic reading of ?af? on the authority of Im?m ' im.

majma al zawaid: Prophet Muhammad And His Miracles Bediuzzaman Said Nursi, 2007-11-01 Prominent scholars of Islam say that the evidences of Muhammad's prophethood and his miracles amount to about 1000. Countless people have affirmed it in their own particular ways, and the Qur'an itself provides thousands of such proofs. This book by Bediuzzaman Said Nursi talks about some of the extraordinary incidents that happened at the time of prophet Muhammad in support of his divine mission, that is, calling people to Islam.

majma al zawaid: The Naqshbandi Sufi Tradition Guidebook of Daily Practices and Devotions Muhammad Hisham Kabbani, Shaykh Muhammad Hisham Kabbani, 2004 One of the distinguished schools of Islamic spiritual discipline, the Naqshbandi Sufi Order has a long and illustrious history from the first days of Islam. Led by the shaykhs of the Golden Chain-inheritors of spiritual knowledge from Prophet Muhammad-the Naqshbandi Order has always played a central, pivotal role in the life of people in the Muslim world and survived the turmoil and tribulations of the past century to remain one of the few authentic mystical traditions maintaining a living link with its ancient past. The extraordinary vision of the Naqshbandi Saints was manifest in their establishment of fixed devotions and daily practices firmly rooted in the Qur'an and Sunnah of the Prophet. These practices have enabled devout seekers to awaken certainty of belief and to attain stations of nearness to the Divine Presence. The renewed prominence of this order at the turn of the 21st century, due to the indefatigable striving of Mawlana Shaykh Muhammad Nazim al-Haqqani, signals an impending change to our society in which aspirants to Divine Service will be granted to transcend the bounds of the physical senses in order to fulfill the unexplored potential in each human heart. The Naqshbandi Devotions are a source of light and energy, an oasis in a worldly desert. Through the manifestations of Divine Blessings bestowed on the practitioners of these magnificent rites, they will be granted the power of magnanimous healing, by which they seek to cure the hearts of mankind darkened by the gloom of spiritual poverty and materialism. We pray that each person who picks up this book of devotions with sincere intention to observe any of its efficacious practices will receive a portion of the blessings and manifestations bestowed on the greatest saints of earlier times.

majma al zawaid: Madīnan Society at the Time of the Prophet: Its characteristics and organization Akram Diyā' 'Umārī, 1995-01-01 As its title clearly implies, Madinan Society at the Time of the Prophet (SAAS) is a work that brings out the most important aspects of life in the early Muslim community. Its author, the renowned scholar of sirah and Sunnah studies Professor Akram Diya' al'Umari, has expended a great deal of effort in order to make this book more than just a recitation of the historical record. The result is a breakthrough in historiographical methodology, as Dr. al'Umari has effectively succeeded in combining the strict methodological guidelines used by traditional Muslim scholars of the Sunnah and usul al hadith with modern methods of historical criticism. Volume One of this important new work, subtitled Its Characteristics and Organization, aims at presenting the reader with an accurate description of the society brought about through the efforts of the Prophet (SAAS) and his Companions, the society viewed by every successive generation of Muslims as the ideal in temporal spiritual values. Volume Two of this important new work, subtitled The Jihad Against the Mushrikun, deals with the all-important subject of the relations of the struggling new community with the forces that threatened its very existence. Without a doubt, the exemplary behavior of the Prophet (SAAS) and his Companions during the long years that they remained under attack has remained a continued source of inspiration for all Muslims. Its contemporary relevance and significance to the Ummah is a matter that needs no explanation.

majma al zawaid: Desire of the Aspirant: On the Etiquette of the Teacher and the Student al-Shahid al-Thani, 2016-01-01 The present work is a translation of al-Shahid al-Thani's Munyat al-Murid fi Adab al-Mufid wa al-Mustafid. The original Arabic work, written in 954 AH/1547 CE, quickly established itself as a core text in the Islamic seminaries, and it has long been an important source of reference for anyone interested in Islamic education and spiritual development. Now available in English for the first time, this classic work will be a valuable addition to the core reading lists of courses on Islamic ethics and spirituality. The current edition also contains an insightful introduction consisting of a biography of the author, an overview of the body of his work, a survey of his predecessors' views on education, a study of his ideas on education, and an examination of his methodology of education.

majma al zawaid: Muslim Studies George McCue, 2017-07-05 This is the first volume of Goldziher's Muslim Studies, which ranks highly among the classics of the scholarly literature on Islam. Indeed, the two volumes, originally published in German in 1889-1890, can justly be counted among those that laid the foundations of the modern study of Islam as a religion and a civilization. The first study deals with the reaction of Islam to the ideals of Arab tribal society, to the attitudes of early Islam to the various nationalities and more especially the Persians, and culminates in the chapter on the Shu'ubiya movement which represents the reaction of the newly converted peoples, and again more especially the Persians, to the idea of Arab superiority. The second essay is the famous study on the development of the Hadith, the -Traditions- ascribed to Muhammed, in which the Hadith is shown to reflect the various trends of early Islam: Goldziher's name is mainly associated with the critical study of the Hadith, of which this essay is the chief monument. The third essay is about the cult of saints, which, though contrary to the spirit and letter of the earliest Islam, played such an important part in its subsequent development. These essays, with the author's marvelous richness of information, profound historical sense, and sympathetic insight into the motive forces of religion and civilization, are today as fresh as at the time of their original publication and their reissue is indispensable for the growing number of students of Islam. Hamid Dabashi contributes a major eighty-five-page study of Goldziher's life and scholarship, situating both in the intellectual and political currents of his own time while evaluating his work in the context of the current debate over Orientalism.

majma al zawaid: The Syrian Uprising and Signs Of The Hour Sayyid Rami al Rifai, 2015-05-12 The world will soon see change, this book discusses those changes and covers the end of America, the end of the Arabs, the rise of Europe and the Mahdi's Army who will face them. It outlines this future from both the Islamic and Christian religions and shows how they point towards the same future. Many of Islams major scholars have written works on the Signs of the Hour, in which they have arranged the narrations (ahadith) in the chronological order they understood the events would occur in. The Prophet (saws) said: "The signs shall appear one after the other like the beads on a string follow one another (when the string is cut)." The Signs began to appear in our lifetime and have been following each other one by one, this is clear by the acceptance of most scholars that the minor signs of the hour have all been fulfilled and we are about to witness it's first major sign. Syria has been mentioned by the prophet (saws) in relation to events that will mark the nearness of the hour. This Book, now in it's 2nd edition and largely expanded, looks at these narration's and identifies the events the prophet (saws) spoke about, chronologically arranging them to give us the timeline the prophet (saws) intended us to have; Abu Zaid Al-Ansaaree (ra) said, "The Prophet led us in the morning prayer, after which he climbed the pulpit and addressed us until Dhuhr (noon). He descended, prayed 'Asr (the late afternoon prayer), and then climbed the pulpit again, speaking to us until the setting of the sun. He spoke to us about what was and what will be; he informed us (thereof) and made us memorize (that information)." (Ahmad) Hudhayfah (ra) said: The Prophet stood up one day to speak to us, and told us everything that was going to happen until the Hour, and left nothing unsaid. Some of the listeners learnt it by heart, and some forgot it; these friends of mine learnt it. I do not remember it completely, but sometimes it springs to mind, just as one might remember and recognize the face of a man whom one had forgotten, when one sees him. (Abu Dawud, Muslim) This Book is an entirely new work, dealing with the subject matter from a modern context. Previous works regarding the signs of the Hour have been simple translations of Imam Ibn Kathir's book's with out much being done to update his chronology that is now hundreds of years old and to identify the events he mentioned. This Book takes the accounts of the prophet and identifies them giving an entirely more accurate chronology than was previously possible, from this effort the clearest picture yet emerges of the state of the world and its future, which we have corroborated with multiple sources all essentially saying the same thing. This is a reality which can be stated without any ambiguity and Exaggeration, that in the Islamic world of today the most power full, use full and all-encompassing effort, is the struggle of the Tablighi Jamaat whose center is situated at the Tablighi Markaz Nizamuddin, Delhi(India). The scope of this effort and its impact is not restricted to the India subcontinent, or Asia, but extends to many continents and to a host of Islamic and Non- Islamic States. The history if such campaigns and revolutionary or reformative movements shows that, after passage of a period of time, or when the scope of the effort enlarge greatly (specially when, by means of it, the attainment of certain advantages and leadership become apparent) then such weaknesses, unwanted objectives and neglect of the original goals set in, which reduce or even totally wipe out the true influence of the work.

Angels: The Creatures of Light The faith of Muslims is related to the unseen. In Islam, it is obligatory to believe in angels. All the heavenly religions agree that apart from the realm of us humans, there is another realm of angels hidden from our eyes. Angels are also mentioned in the Bible and Vedic scripts. But the detailed information available in Islamic literature about angels is impossible to find in other religious scriptures. Angels are one of the mightiest and most powerful creatures created by Allah Almighty. This book covers all the incredible information about angels in the Holy Quran, the Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), and the companions of the Prophet. The prowess and vast realm of angels are explained in vivid and meticulous detail, which will blow the reader's mind.

The Prophet is the sole teacher of Islam, as well as the embodiment of Truth therein the foundation of his infallibility. The author discusses nineteen accusations of this infallibility, which accuse the Prophet (PBUH) of acting against the Qurans Message. These violations defame his character and belittle his role as the Messenger. It also opens the door to false prophets wishing to override the Messengers teachings by preaching their own version of Islam. These false teachings are still in circulation, accepted by many from within Muslim hierarchy and often used to defend violent extremism.
