Zamenhof, which will be complete and comprehensive in regards to a) the grammar of Esperanto as first outlined by Zamenhof in Fundamento de Esperanto and other foundational documents, and b) Esperanto as it is spoken today by the most committed Esperantists. (Proposed reforms to the Esperanto language will be discussed if they have serious support from a significant fraction of Esperanto enthusiasts). This book was started practically on a dare from the August 2006 issue of Bob's Poetry Magazine, in which Robert Happelberg boasted that he could print a complete and comprehensive grammar of Esperanto in just one 6 by 7 inch page. While this is obviously wrong, it's not too far off the mark. When completed, this book will require several standard size (8.5 by 11 in the USA) pages, but will still be much shorter than a complete grammar of a natural language like English or Slovene. In view of this goal, the number of examples provided for each concept will be kept to a bare minimum. Those wishing to build their Esperanto vocabularies are also referred to the Esperanto textbooks. It is acceptable in the beginning to word the text in an accessible manner like in a textbook, but the goal should be for all the text to be technical with a full command of linguistic jargon.

The book is profusely illustrated, as it offers a joyride to the world of the whole range of hazards through simplified teaching-learning process, with less of teaching and more of learning. This is because most readers would love to learn without actually being taught. The book is designed to take advantage of distilled wisdom of centuries to inspire and enlighten the common man to turn them into prime movers of safer societies. Senior citizens, community leaders, self-trained disaster managers, social workers, media personnel, bureaucrats and those averse to the very thought of reading will also find the book useful as it is illustrative and inviting.

mastram 2013: The Oxford Handbook of Culture and Psychology Jaan Valsiner, 2013-12-15 The goal of cultural psychology is to explain the ways in which human cultural constructions -- for example, rituals, stereotypes, and meanings -- organize and direct human acting, feeling, and thinking in different social contexts. A rapidly growing, international field of scholarship, cultural psychology is ready for an interdisciplinary, primary resource. Linking psychology, anthropology, sociology, archaeology, and history, The Oxford Handbook of Culture and Psychology is the quintessential volume that unites the variable perspectives from these disciplines. Comprised of over fifty contributed chapters, this book provides a necessary, comprehensive overview of contemporary cultural psychology. Bridging psychological, sociological, and anthropological perspectives, one will find in this handbook: - A concise history of psychology that includes valuable resources for innovation in psychology in general and cultural psychology in particular - Interdisciplinary chapters including insights into cultural anthropology, cross-cultural psychology, culture and conceptions of the self, and semiotics and cultural connections - Close, conceptual links with contemporary biological sciences, especially developmental biology, and with other social sciences - A section detailing potential methodological innovations for cultural psychology By comparing cultures and the (often differing) human psychological functions occurring within them, The Oxford Handbook of Culture and Psychology is the ideal resource for making sense of complex and varied human phenomena.

In Consciousness and the Social Brain, Princeton neuroscientist Michael Graziano lays out an audacious new theory to account for the deepest mystery of them all. The human brain has evolved a complex circuitry that allows it to be socially intelligent. This social machinery has only just begun to be studied in detail.

One function of this circuitry is to attribute awareness to others: to compute that person Y is aware of thing X. In Graziano's theory, the machinery that attributes awareness to others also attributes it to oneself. Damage that machinery and you disrupt your own awareness. Graziano discusses the science, the evidence, the philosophy, and the surprising implications of this new theory.

mastram 2013: Dieu Deepak Chopra, 2013-08-30T00:00:00-04:00 Dans ce dernier livre, une oeuvre remarquable, révolutionnaire et remplie d'imagination qui allie de façon inédite le conte à l'enseignement, l'auteur consacré par le New York Times sonde l'évolution de Dieu. À travers la vie de dix prophètes, saints, mystiques et martyrs de l'histoire touchés par une puissance divine, Deepak Chopra brosse le portrait saisissant d'un dieu sans cesse en transformation. Nos croyances, et de fait Dieu lui-même, évoluent au fil des siècles. Dans ce nouvel ouvrage, Chopra met en scène les grands moments des plus célèbres sages de notre monde, et révèle autant de leçons universelles sur la véritable nature de Dieu. L'expérience de Job dans l'Ancien Testament est tout autre que celle de Paul dans le Nouveau Testament. Socrate est en quête d'un esprit versatile presque sans comparaison avec l'étrange voix qui appelle Rumi, et Shankara va d'une ville à l'autre pour révéler la vérité d'un dieu fort différent de celui qui guide Anne Hutchinson. Pourtant, indéniablement, un même modèle transparait. Ces visionnaires ont entraîné le genre humain sur des chemins inconnus et Chopra nous invite à redécouvrir leurs destinations. Un baume pour le coeur et pour l'âme, Dieu apporte une compréhension profonde et bouleversante de ce qu'est la croyance, du pouvoir de la foi et de l'esprit qui réside en chacun d'entre nous.

mastram 2013: Visualisierung von Umweltdaten in Supercomputersystemen Arndt Bode, Rüdiger Dierstein, Martin Göbel, Andreas Jaeschke, 2013-03-07 Die Datenmengen, die bei der Modellierung, der Simulation und der Überwachung von Umweltprozessen anfallen, sind heute schon so groß, daß sie nur noch mit Supercomputersystemen in verantwortbaren Zeiten sinnvoll bearbeitet werden können. Auch die Ergebnisdaten müssen weiter analysiert und interpretiert werden, sei es durch erfahrenes und DV-kundiges Fachpersonal, sei es durch weitergehende Transformationen und geeignete Formen der Darstellung. Die Visualisierung von Umweltdaten versucht, das umfangreiche und komplexe Datenmaterial mit Werkzeugen der Graphischen Datenverarbeitung in Form von Bildern darzustellen und dabei die Modellvorstellungen der Wissenschaftler und Ingenieure wiederzugeben, die in erster Linie Fachleute ihrer wissenschaftlichen und technischen Disziplinen sind und erst danach eventuell DV-Spezialisten. Dieser Band enthält die Beiträge einer Fachtagung, die der Fachbereich 4 Informationstechnik und Technische Nutzung der Informatik der Gesellschaft für Informatik veranstaltet hat. Schwerpunkte der Tagung waren die Visualisierung räumlicher Daten, die Anwendung von Hochleistungssystemen und die Visualisierung und Interaktion in Umweltinformationssystemen.

mastram 2013: One Night at the Call Center Chetan Bhagat, 2008-12-10 Press 1 for technical support. Press 2 for broken hearts. Press 3 if your life has totally crashed. . . . Six friends work nights at a call center in India, providing technical support for a major U.S. appliance corporation. Skilled in patience-and accent management-they help American consumers keep their lives running. Yet behind the headsets, everybody's heart is on the line. Shyam (Sam to his callers) has lost his self-confidence after being dumped by the girl who just so happens to be sitting next to him. Priyanka's domineering mother has arranged for her daughter's upscale marriage to an Indian man in Seattle. Esha longs to be a model but discovers it's a horizontal romp to the runway. Lost, dissatisfied Vroom has high ideals, but compromises them by talking on the phone to idiots each night. Traditional Radhika has just found out that her husband is sleeping with his secretary. And Military Uncle (nobody knows his real name) sits alone working the online chat. They all try to make it through their shifts-and maintain their sanity-under the eagle eye of a boss whose ego rivals his incompetence. But tonight is no ordinary night. Tonight is Thanksgiving in America: Appliances are going haywire, and the phones are ringing off their hooks. Then one call, from one very special caller, changes everything. Chetan Bhagat's delicious romantic comedy takes us inside the world of the international call center, where cultural cross-wires come together with perfect pathos, hilarity, and spice.

mastram 2013: The Great Train Journey Ruskin Bond, 2018 'The first time I saw a train, I was standing on a wooded slope outside a tunnel, not far from Kalka. Suddenly, with a shrill whistle and great burst of steam, a green and black engine came snorting out of the blackness... A dragon! I shouted. There's a dragon coming out of its cave!' The charm of travelling by a train as it speeds its way out of a tunnel or a jungle and passes through nondescript villages and towns is unmatched. There also exists a joyful curiosity in unfolding the mysterious lives and destinations of its passengers. Ruskin Bond has been writing tales about the hinterland for decades, but this is the first time his stories revolving around trains and railway stations of small-town India have been brought together in a single collection. Classics such as 'The Eyes Have It' and 'The Night Train at Deoli' rub shoulders with tales of big cats taking refuge in railway tunnels and strangers who strike up a friendship while waiting at a platform.

mastram 2013: We Indians Khushwant Singh, 2016 A sharp and funny dissection of different aspects of the Indian character, from our attitude to sex, religion and women to our views on corruption and the English language. Irreverent and full of witty observations, this is a Khushwant Singh classic!

mastram 2013: Women Do Genre in Film and Television Mary Harrod, Katarzyna Paszkiewicz, 2018 Winner of first Prize in the BAFTSS Best Edited Collection competition, this volume examines how different generations of women work within the genericity of audio-visual storytelling not necessarily to 'undo' or 'subvert' popular formats, but also to draw on their generative force. Recent examples of filmmakers and creative practitioners within and outside Hollywood as well as women working in non-directing authorial roles remind us that women are in various ways authoring commercially and culturally impactful texts across a range of genres. Put simply, this volume asks: what do women who are creatively engaged with audio-visual industries do with genre and what does genre do with them? The contributors to the collection respond to this question from diverse perspectives and with different answers, spanning issues of direction, screenwriting, performance and audience address/reception.

mastram 2013: Money Man Abhijeet Singh, 2017-01-19 I want a helicopter on the roof; will you get that for me?" she said. Which chopper?" the stranger queried without an ounce of doubt. Bhavna was on an 'accidental date', with a stranger she just met. She embarked on a journey with this stranger, around the world and to its baffling reality, hidden behind the facade of cosmetic speeches scripted for International Forums. Their journey is marred with experiences that leave them with questions like, Is there any space on this planet where money doesn't have control? What really helps to run this world, Hope or Greed?

mastram 2013: Voices of Labor Michael Curtin, Kevin Sanson, 2017-03-03 The film industry in Hollywood now employs a global mode of production run by massive media conglomerates that mobilize hundreds, sometimes thousands, of workers for each feature film or television series. Yet these workers and their labor remain largely invisible to the general audience. In fact, this has been a signal characteristic of Hollywood style for more than a hundred years: everything that matters happens onscreen, not off. Consequently, when it comes to movies and television, the voices heard most often are those belonging to talent and corporate executives. Those we hear least are the voices of labor, and it's that silence we aim to redress in the collection of interviews in this book. Drawing from the detailed and personal accounts in this collection, we offer three interrelated propositions about the current state and future prospects of craftwork and screen media labor: 1. Craftwork exists within an intricate and intimate matrix of social relations. 2. Hollywood craftwork today constitutes a regime of excessive labor. 3. Screen media production is a protean entity. We organized the collection into three sections: company town, global machine, and fringe city. The first section refers to Hollywood's historic roots as a core component of the motion picture business. The second section engages more directly with the spatial dynamics of film and television production to underscore the economic and political structures that are integrating distant locations into the studios' mode of production. We close with a section on the visual effects sector, in which stories shared by vfx artists, advocates, and organizers specifically illustrate how the industry today relies on marginal institutions to sustain its power and profitability--Provided by publisher.
