This version has been fully re-checked for accuracy and re-formatted to make it even more user-friendly, following feedback after a full year of classroom use by thousands of teachers across the world. Spanish Sentence Builders is a workbook aimed at beginner to pre-intermediate students co-authored by two modern languages educators with over 40 years of extensive classroom experience between the two, both in the UK and internationally. This 'no-frills' book contains 19 units of work on very popular themes, jam-packed with graded vocabulary-building, reading, translation, retrieval practice and writing activities. Key vocabulary, lexical patterns and structures are recycled and interleaved throughout. Each unit includes: 1) A sentence builder modelling the target constructions; 2) A set of vocabulary building activities; 3) A set of narrow reading texts exploited through a range of tasks focusing on both the meaning and structural levels of the text; 4) A set of retrieval-practice translation tasks; 5) A set of writing tasks targeting essential micro-skills such as spelling, lexical retrieval, syntax, editing and communication of meaning. Based on the Extensive Processing Instruction (E.P.I.) principle that learners learn best from comprehensible and highly patterned input flooded with the target linguistic features, the authors have carefully designed each and every text and activity to enable the student to process and produce each item many times over. This occurs throughout each unit of work as well as in smaller grammar, vocabulary and question-skills micro-units located at regular intervals in the book, which aim at reinforcing the understanding and retention of the target grammar, vocabulary and question patterns.

Sandra Cisneros, 2012-10-02 The internationally acclaimed author of The House on Mango Street and winner of the PEN/Nabokov Award for Achievement in International Literature gives us a deeply moving tale of loss, grief, and healing: a lyrically told, richly illustrated fable for grown-ups about a woman's search for a cat who goes missing in the wake of her mother's death. The word "orphan" might not seem to apply to a fifty-three-year-old woman. Yet this is exactly how Sandra feels as she finds herself motherless, alone like "a glove left behind at the bus station." What just might save her is her search for someone else gone missing: Marie, the black-and-white cat of her friend, Roz, who ran off the day they arrived from Tacoma. As Sandra and Roz scour the streets of San Antonio, posting flyers and asking everywhere, "Have you seen Marie?" the pursuit of this one small creature takes on unexpected urgency and meaning. With full-color illustrations that bring this transformative quest to vivid life, Have You Seen Marie? showcases a beloved author's storytelling magic, in a tale that reminds us how love, even when it goes astray, does not stay lost forever.

avancemos 2 pdf: Human Capital versus Basic Income Fabian A Borges, 2022-02-23 Latin America underwent two major transformations during the 2000s: the widespread election of left-leaning presidents (the so-called left turn) and the diffusion of conditional cash transfer programs (CCTs)—innovative social programs that award regular stipends to poor families on the condition that their children attend school. Combining cross-national quantitative research covering the entire region and in-depth case studies based on field research, Human Capital versus Basic Income: Ideology and Models for Anti-Poverty Programs in Latin America challenges the conventional wisdom that these two transformations were unrelated. In this book, author Fabián A. Borges demonstrates that this ideology greatly influenced both the adoption and design of CCTs. There were two distinct models of CCTs: a “human capital” model based on means-tested targeting and strict enforcement of program conditions, exemplified by the program launched by Mexico’s right, and a more universalistic “basic income” model with more permissive enforcement of conditionality, exemplified by Brazil’s program under Lula. These two models then spread across the region. Whereas right and center governments, with assistance from international financial institutions, enacted CCTs based on the human capital model, the left, with assistance from Brazil, enacted CCTs based on the basic income model. The existence of two distinct types of CCTs and their relation to ideology is supported by quantitative analyses covering the entire region and in-depth case studies based on field research in three countries. Left-wing governments operate CCTs that cover more people and spend more on those programs than their center or right-wing counterparts. Beyond coverage, a subsequent analysis of the 10 national programs adopted after Lula’s embrace of CCTs confirms that program design—evaluated in terms of scope of the target population, strictness of conditionality enforcement, and stipend structure—is shaped by government ideology. This finding is then fleshed out through case studies of the political processes that culminated in the adoption of basic income CCTs by left-wing governments in Argentina and Bolivia and a human capital CCT by a centrist president in Costa Rica.

avancemos 2 pdf: The context of REDD+ in Peru: Drivers, agents and institutions Hugo Che Piu, Mary Menton, 2014-09-09 This country profile contains an analysis of the causes of deforestation and forest degradation in Peru, and the economic, institutional and political context in which REDD is emerging in the country. Peru has a total forest area of approximately 73 million hectares, almost 60% of national territory. In the past few years, deforestation decreased from 150,000 ha/year to 106,000 ha/year but it still represents one of the biggest sources of greenhouse gas emissions in the country. While it has decreased recently, an increase is expected during coming years due to development policies that support the expansion of road infrastructure in the Amazon, an increase in agricultural production and support for the extractive sectors. The government has declared a goal of reducing to zero the deforestation rate across 54 million hectares of primary forest by 2021, and has initiated the preparation process for REDD+ (Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and Forest Degradation Plus) at a national and subnational level. While the pilot projects are already underway, with international and national funding, and even certification according to international standards, the national government is still in the process of developing REDD+ and MRV (Measuring, Reporting and Verification) strategies under the leadership of MINAM. Even if REDD has solid support within certain sectors of the government and civil society, it will face big challenges during the implementation phase due to a lack of intersectoral coordination and support to a socioeconomic development that would stimulate conservation and stop deforestation and degradation. In the process of preparation for REDD+, the country has advanced with the processes of safeguarding the participation of the civil society and the protection of native and local communities' rights. At the same time, the challenges concerning weak governance at a national and regional level and conflicts of interest are threats to the effective, efficient and equitable implementation in the long-term.

avancemos 2 pdf: Contesting Trade in Central America Rose J. Spalding, 2014-04-15 In 2004, the United States, five Central American countries, and the Dominican Republic signed the Central American Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA), signaling the region's commitment to a neoliberal economic model. For many, however, neoliberalism had lost its luster as the new century dawned, and resistance movements began to gather force. Contesting Trade in Central America is the first book-length study of the debate over CAFTA, tracing the agreement's drafting, its passage, and its aftermath across Central America. Rose J. Spalding draws on nearly two hundred interviews with representatives from government, business, civil society, and social movements to analyze the relationship between the advance of free market reform in Central America and the parallel rise of resistance movements. She views this dynamic through the lens of Karl Polanyi's "double movement" theory, which posits that significant shifts toward market economics will trigger oppositional, self-protective social countermovements. Examining the negotiations, political dynamics, and agents involved in the passage of CAFTA in Costa Rica, El Salvador, and Nicaragua, Spalding argues that CAFTA served as a high-profile symbol against which Central American avancemos 2 pdf: Web3 Alex Tapscott, 2024-04-11 En las tres últimas décadas hemos pasado de la web de solo lectura a la web de lectura escritura, que ha convertido a los usuarios de Internet en creadores de contenido y ofrece infinitas oportunidades para la colaboración. Si bien esta nueva web revolucionó los medios de comunicación, el comercio y otras industrias, la proliferación de ciberataques, ataques de datos y la recopilación y análisis de datos de los usuarios ha llevado a muchos a ver la vida digital como un pacto faustiano. Los intermediarios y los gigantes tecnológicos se han convertido en agentes reguladores que establecen barreras e imponen peajes sobre todo lo que hacemos, ahogando la innovación y la libertad económica en línea. Es aquí donde entra la Web3, o web de lectura escritura propiedad, una Internet descentralizada donde los individuos son dueños de sus identidades y creaciones en línea y pueden intercambiar de forma segura activos como dinero, valores, propiedad intelectual, arte y datos de igual a igual. Nos permite reconceptualizar las industrias culturales, transformar el dinero y los mercados, dar paso a nuevos tipos de activos y organizaciones y apoyar una mayor participación global en nuestra economía digital. Si es verdad que la difusión de la tecnología aplanar el mundo, la Web3 podría ser una apisonadora, transformando el mundo de formas profundas e inesperadas. La Web3 llega con ingentes promesas y peligros potenciales para los líderes del mundo de la empresa y de la sociedad. avancemos 2 pdf: Telos 114. Yo, alumno Fundación Telefónica, 2020-09-24 La educación no es unívoca ni unidireccional; es un intercambio de conocimiento, de experiencias y aprendizajes. La educación requiere interés mutuo, exige respeto por el otro, metas y visiones compartidas. Con los siglos, sin embargo, la educación se ha ido despegando de la auctoritas para acercarse y consolidarse en la potestas; encerrándose en las aulas y en las instituciones; enredándose en la burocracia y en las relaciones piramidales; aislándose de la realidad social y tecnológica, eludiendo los problemas que los desequilibrios de toda índole provocan. La educación requiere nuevas formas, nuevos contenidos, nuevos modelos. La educación en la sociedad digital no tiene espacio, ni tiempo, es multidireccional porque en la sociedad en Red la riqueza está en las conexiones, en la globalidad, en la apertura. En una sociedad en cambio permanente e innovación continua se acabaron las certezas y solo mediante el intercambio constante de experiencias y de conocimientos es posible el progreso personal y colectivo. La formación hoy es redarquía, colaboración, transparencia y, por encima de todo, generosidad. El número 114 de la revista TELOS está dedicado a la educación, que hoy más que nunca es un viaje, un proyecto vital en continuidad para adaptarnos a un nuevo modo de vida de cambios constantes y situaciones imprevisibles.

avancemos 2 pdf: Contexto de REDD+ en Perú Hugo Che Piu, Mary Menton, 2013-09-18 Este perfil de país contiene un análisis de causas de la deforestación y la degradación forestal en el Perú, y el contexto económico, institucional y político en el cual está emergiendo REDD + en el Perú. El Perú cuenta con una superficie total de bosques de aproximadamente 73 millones de hectáreas, o casi 60% del territorio nacional. En los últimos años, la deforestación se bajó de 150 000 ha/año a 106 000 ha/año pero todavía representa una de las fuentes mayores de emisiones de gases de efecto invernadero en el país. Mientras que ha bajado recientemente, se espera un aumento en los próximos años debido a políticas de desarrollo que apoyan la expansión de infraestructura vial en la Amazonía, aumento de la producción agrícola y apoyo a los sectores extractivistas. El Gobierno ha manifestado que tiene como meta reducir a cero la tasa de deforestación en 54 millones de hectáreas de bosques primarios para el 2021, y ha iniciado el proceso de preparación para REDD+

(Reducción de Emisiones por la Deforestación y la Degradación Forestal Plus) al nivel nacional y sub-nacional. Mientras que los proyectos piloto ya están en marcha, con financiamiento internacional y nacional, y hasta certificación por los estándares internacionales, el gobierno nacional sigue en el proceso de construcción de las estrategias para REDD+ y MRV bajo el liderazgo del MINAM. Aunque REDD cuente con un sólido apoyo dentro de algunos sectores del gobierno y la sociedad civil, enfrentará grandes desafíos durante la fase de implementación por faltar coordinación y apoyo intersectorial para un desarrollo socioeconómico que incentiva la conservación y frena la deforestación y degradación. En el proceso de preparación para REDD+, el país ha avanzado con los procesos de salvaguardar la participación de la sociedad civil y protección de los derechos de las comunidades nativas y locales. Al mismo tiempo, los retos de debilidades de gobernanza al nivel nacional y regional, y conflictos de interés son amenazas para una implementación efectiva, eficiente, y equitativa al largo plazo
